

CENTERSTATE
CORPORATION FOR ECONOMIC OPPORTUNITY

2016 CENTRAL NEW YORK COMMUNITY GUIDE

Let's begin together.

Real relationships. Real dedication. Real involvement.

In 1950, civilian employees of Griffiss Air Force Base threw $68 on the table and formed AmeriCU Credit Union. AmeriCU has grown to be in the top 2% of credit unions in the country while we stay true to our roots as a community-based, not-for-profit financial cooperative. Unlike a bank, AmeriCU is owned by members, not by shareholders. AmeriCU's mission is to improve the financial lives of the members, businesses, and communities we serve by helping them reach their goals. AmeriCU can help your business:

- Offer employees retirement plans and/or benefits packages*
- Finance expansions or new lines of business
- Acquire equipment
- Replace an aging vehicle fleet
- Realize greater financial flexibility and smoother cash flow
- Give employees the tools and education they need to manage their personal finances, reduce stress, and plan for the future
- Insure assets, people, and intellectual property

If you're looking for a financial team that will see beyond your balance sheet and bottom line, a team that is as invested in the community as you are, a team that wants to help you meet your goals on your terms, get real... get AmeriCU!

WELCOME!

The Central New York region offers a rare combination of things we all look for in a community: history, beauty, opportunity and growth. We have diverse landscapes and natural resources, generous and sincere people, and endless prospects for residents and visitors alike.

Whether you are looking for a place to start a business, raise a family or both, this area has it all: jobs, homes, communities, great schools, quality health care, growing industries, countless ways to have fun, and one of the best quality of life standards in the country.

We are focused on the future and working tirelessly to position ourselves on the front lines of the next generation of industry. We are leading health care breakthroughs and have exceptional education leadership.

Drive through this area and you will see development around every corner, open signs in store windows and an energized community. We are working, planning, building, strategizing and growing—together.

Life in this region is all about balance. We take pride in our four seasons . . . ask anyone about the summers here and they'll tell you how those long, midyear months make every snowflake worthwhile.

We hope this publication helps you understand what a fantastic place Central New York is as you consider making our home, your home.

We hope you love it as much as we do!

Sincerely,

Robert M. Simpson, President
CenterState CEO

LEISURE

Central New York is a great place to work and play. We are home to world-class shopping; scenic drives to quaint towns and villages; top-notch sports teams; incredible restaurants; expansive parks; an exciting night life in downtown Syracuse, and museums, performing arts, cultural events and festivals galore.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Shane Broadwell, partner, Broadwell Hospitality Group

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE of the Oswego River and Harbor; I grew up here in Oswego. I now have the opportunity to share the river and our great Lake Ontario with my boys. To be able to step in a boat and take advantage of the canal system to swim and fish, or do the same in the lake, just can't be beat.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS our restaurant, GS Steamers Bar & Grill located within the Quality Inn & Suites Riverfront hotel overlooking the Oswego River. It's where I feel most comfortable probably because I have worked here for 25 years and there is no better place to work.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME with my wife Elisa and sons Sam, 15, and Mathew, 13. There is no place that I would rather be than at home with my family. We have a home in the woods with many acres to play in.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR what mother earth and nature have to offer us. The seasons are beautiful – I look forward to each one. Oswego County has so much to offer outdoors, we have yet to tap into its full potential. We also have world-class sunsets and amazing fishing on Lake Ontario, which I consider my front yard.

SPORTS FACILITIES

Central New Yorkers love their sports. From professional, collegiate and school teams to recreational leagues and fundraisers, people young and old participate in some form of athletic activity. Whether actively competing or showing support on the sidelines, area residents enjoy sports action at all levels. In addition, the area's numerous sporting facilities encourage more people to become involved, and indoor recreation centers allow athletes to play their sport year-round.

Professional teams include the Syracuse Chiefs baseball team, the AAA Washington Nationals affiliate; the Syracuse Crunch, an AHL hockey team; and the Syracuse Silver Knights, a Major Indoor Soccer League franchise. Collegiate athletic teams include the Division I Syracuse University men's football, basketball (2003 NCAA Champions), and lacrosse teams with more than 10 national championships. The women's field hockey and men's cross-country teams at Syracuse University earned national titles in 2015. Le Moyne College and Onondaga Community College also boast national titles in baseball, basketball and volleyball. The greater region is also home to national champions including: Clarkson University's women's ice hockey team (2014 NC champion); SUNY Cortland men's lacrosse (2009 D3 champion); and Cornell University women's ice hockey team advanced to the Frozen Four in 2010, 2011 and 2012.

CAYUGA COUNTY

offers visitors a wide variety of recreational opportunities. Located in the heart of the Finger Lakes, outdoor activities range from golfing and boating to biking and hiking. Entertainment activities range from festivals to Broadway-style theatrical shows and historical venues. In Cayuga County, there's always something to see or do—or taste—in the area. Sip award-winning wines at local wineries and taste fresh, gourmet cuisine made with ingredients straight from area farms. Drink in the breathtaking scenery on a long drive or on a lakeside stroll, and keep your eye out for a stunning sunset—it's all part of the Cayuga County experience.

WINTER FUN

Just because it snows a good amount here doesn't mean Central New Yorkers stay indoors all winter. Just the opposite, in fact, as the region fully embraces the season with every sport and activity imaginable. Bundle up and hit the slopes for a little night skiing after work; pack a lunch and snowshoe through the gorgeous Highland Forest and Beaver Lake Nature Center; or grab your family for some ice skating under the stars, which during the holiday season includes an ideal view of the sparkling tree in downtown's Clinton Square.

SIP ON SYRACUSE & BEYOND

Syracuse has a long and storied brewing history. Centrally located in the state, with rail lines and the Erie Canal nearby, Syracuse was a perfect place to brew and distribute beer during the 1800s. Brewery business peaked during the 1890s when the brewing industry employed 400 people locally and produced about 300,000 barrels of beer and ale each year, according to the Onondaga Historical Association. Prohibition all but wiped out the industry before it began to re-emerge in 1994 when the microbrewery trend began to sweep across the country, including here in Central New York.

Local pubs have seen tremendous growth and success within the last few years. Empire Brewing Company, based in Syracuse, is slated to open its new Empire Farmstead Brewery in Cazenovia this year. The facility will grow ingredients for Empire brews right on site, and features a brewery and a tasting room.

WORLD CLASS WINE TRAILS, VINEYARDS & DISTILLERIES

Some of the most beautiful – not to mention delicious – wine regions in all the world are just a short drive from Syracuse. Spring, summer and fall are popular times for wine tours, either by charter bus or cars of friends out enjoying the gorgeous terrain, which produces excellent wine yields year after year.

1911 Hard Ciders, produced by Beak & Skiff Apple Orchard in LaFayette (which was voted America's best orchard in a 2015 USA Today Poll), has also been growing rapidly in both size and popularity. This fifth-generation farm has tapped into a burgeoning industry with its hard ciders as well as small-batch vodkas and gins.

Many facilities offer tours and sampling opportunities, and you can even make your very own wine, complete with custom labels, at Lakeland Winery in Syracuse. Plan your trip with one of these websites, dedicated to the many wine trails, vineyards and distilleries just a short drive away.

DINING OPTIONS

Central New Yorkers take pride in many things: snowfall bragging rights, great college sports and lots and lots of really good food! If the evening calls for dining out, the only problem you will have will be deciding where to go as options for cuisine, atmosphere, price and personality are truly endless. When it comes to restaurants, this region has it all. Feel like a burger and fries in your jeans? No problem. Want to feel a summer breeze over a basket of clams? Sure thing. Need a really special place to celebrate? We've got that, too. It won't take long to find your favorite spot, or a new spot.

ONONDAGA CREEK WALK

Winding its way through the city of Syracuse is the Onondaga Creekwalk—a 2.6 mile, 13-foot-wide trail that is ideal for running, walking or biking. The Creekwalk, which runs from the historic Armory Square district in downtown Syracuse to the southeast shore of Onondaga Lake, sits alongside the gurgling Onondaga Creek. Plans are underway to connect the Onondaga Creekwalk to the Loop the Lake Trail, which continues to expand around nearby Onondaga Lake. www.syr.gov.net/Creekwalk.aspx

HOUSING

Housing prices in Central New York have remained remarkably stable in recent years, compared to many communities across the country that experienced losses when “the bubble burst.” Whether you are looking for a big family house, a trendy urban condo, or something in between, you’ll find it here.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Danielle Laraque-Arena, MD, FAAP, president of SUNY Upstate Medical University

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE of Syracuse's sense of history; the preservation of architectural style and the sense of renewal.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS the next one! I love discovering new places to eat and engage in good conversation.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME in New York!

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR its sense of community – the open rural lands, the diversity of the people and a tie to the indigenous people that speak to the best of America.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Nick Mills, senior general manager at the Anheuser-Busch Baldwinsville brewery

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE it has such a great family atmosphere. You can spend the entire weekend enjoying friends in the neighborhood or within a few miles there are plenty of great parks, restaurants and various other entertainment options.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS a tough one to narrow down. We have so many great restaurants in Baldwinsville, but I definitely spend the most time at Sal's (Pizzeria &) Restaurant.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME when I'm throwing a ball around in the backyard with my son and the neighborhood kids. Most likely I'm enjoying a cold Bud Light.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR business and raising a family. The community is incredibly supportive. The Baldwinsville brewery has been fortunate to have support from New York state. We have made large investments in the brewery and it could not have been done without the help of the community. We are proud to be a part of a state that is dedicated to growing the beer industry.

THE CITY OF SYRACUSE

The city of Syracuse is a true melting pot of cultures, housing options and communities. You can find everything from a chic downtown loft to a sprawling mansion, all within a few miles of one another. The city is spotted with quaint and picturesque neighborhoods that include parks, sidewalks and amenities, as well as a thriving and growing community of downtown residents.

Former factories, warehouses and apartments in historic buildings now comprise some of Syracuse's most coveted homes. The Pike Block in the heart of downtown, Courier Building and Merchants Commons in Hanover Square, Franklin View Terrace and Mission Landing in Franklin Square, Creekwalk Commons in Clinton Square, Center Armory, Greenway Place, Loews Landmark apartments and Nettleton Commons all provide fashionable addresses overlooking the city streets.

Syracuse neighborhoods include: Downtown, University Hill, Westcott Nation, Eastwood, Sedgwick, Strathmore, the North Side, Tipperary Hill and Little Italy.

ONONDAGA COUNTY SUBURBS

East

Towns and villages: DeWitt, Fayetteville, Jamesville, Manlius, Pompey

The eastern suburbs of Syracuse offer neighborhoods near the hustle and bustle of businesses and restaurants along two main thoroughfares, Erie Boulevard East (Route 5) and East Genesee Street (Route 92).

North

Towns and villages: Baldwinsville, Cicero, Clay, Liverpool, Lysander, Salina, Van Buren

There is a working lock (Lock 24) located on the Seneca River in the heart of Baldwinsville, and nearby Radisson is the area's residential showpiece. A planned community, Radisson is set on 3,000 wooded acres and features nine miles of paved hiking and biking paths, a public 18-hole golf course, a community pool, and tennis and basketball courts. The Route 31 corridor has increased desirability of the north, offering many new restaurants and shopping options.

South

Towns and villages: LaFayette, Spafford, Tully

Just a few minutes from downtown to the south of Syracuse are rolling hills and picturesque valleys. Land is plentiful here, with apple orchards accentuating its beauty. Farms dot the hillsides, lending a sense of peace and tranquility to the area, which is spectacular in the fall with its brightly colored foliage. A little further south, ski slopes are carved out of the more mountainous terrain.

West

Towns and villages: Camillus, Elbridge, Geddes, Marcellus, Onondaga, Otisco, Skaneateles

The western suburbs offer a crown jewel in the resort village of Skaneateles, situated on one of the region's pristine Finger Lakes. Nearby Otisco Lake is a mecca for boaters and fishermen. Looming high over the city of Syracuse is historic Onondaga Hill, which is also home to Onondaga Community College.

EDUCATION

A community is only as strong as its education system. After all, today's students are tomorrow's leaders. You don't have to go far to find many of the best colleges and universities in the nation and award winning elementary and secondary schools; in fact, you have an abundance of choices.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Vanessa Rose, teacher, Fayetteville-Manlius School District

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE the homes are unique and interesting; the neighbors are diverse and friendly. We can walk to nearby parks, Syracuse University sporting events, the Syracuse Real Food Co-op, and best of all our wonderful neighborhood school, Ed Smith. I grew up in the Westcott neighborhood and I am delighted to be raising my kids here.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNTS ARE neighborhood family favorites including Petit Branch Library, Barry Park and Alto Cinco restaurant. For jaunts downtown with friends I enjoy Otro Cinco's reggae brunch and evenings at The Evergreen, a fun new bar and restaurant in Hanover Square.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME in my home! Our home and backyard is often full of kids, neighbors and family.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR raising a family and living a vibrant, affordable lifestyle. There are diverse educational opportunities for kids, both public and private. There is an abundance of activities throughout the year, both indoor and out, around all of Central New York. Downtown Syracuse, and the surrounding area, plays host to great live music, opera, art shows and sports teams. There is tremendous growth and excitement in the city right now and many talented people working to make things happen.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Randi Storch, professor and chair, history department, SUNY Cortland

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE it is in the heart of the Cortland community. A two-minute walk down my street takes me to restaurants, Cortland Performing Arts Institute's dance studio, The Finger Lakes Tasting Room, BRU 64 coffee house, the Cortland Beer Company and the Seven Valley CrossFit gym. A two-minute walk up my street takes me to my office. My neighbors are an energetic mix of college students, families with children and more established members of the community. What could be better?

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS where I go to decompress. Lime Hollow Nature Center's trails are perfect for walks, runs and cross-country skiing. Pure and Simple Yoga is located in a converted corset factory with windows offering beautiful views. Seven Valley CrossFit offers incredibly demanding workouts, but its staff are so friendly and fun that I keep coming back for more.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME enjoying the natural world. Much of my down time is spent hiking, biking and kayaking on the trails, roads, lakes and rivers of this hilly and green part of the world.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR higher education. SUNY Cortland offers students incredible opportunities to engage with the world around them through internships, community service, academic projects, wilderness education and recreational opportunities. High-quality research is made easy by access to a regional network of colleges and universities brimming with interesting faculty and projects. Cortland's central location makes it easy to reach major research centers (whether at Cornell, Syracuse University, Binghamton University or in New York City) for seminars, talks and research visits.

HIGHER EDUCATION IS WITHIN EASY REACH

CenterState New York is fortunate to be home to more than 35 colleges and universities that are fostering tomorrow's leaders – both in this community and around the world. With nearly 140,000 students seeking an education here, the region has become a magnet for the best and brightest around the globe. These colleges and universities are sharing their talents, too, as they send students and faculty abroad to establish partnerships in business, medicine, science, technology and more.

ELEMENTARY & SECONDARY EDUCATION

How to register a child for public school

Call your local school district's main office and ask for instructions. You will likely need proof of address in your school district. If your child is new to school (kindergarten or pre-k), you will likely be required to present a birth certificate, immunization record and a report of a physical exam. If the child is transferring from another school, you may be asked to bring a report card or other transfer paperwork from your child's last school. The school may also ask for an immunization record and a physical exam report. Many school districts now offer registration instructions, forms and information on their websites.

PRESCHOOL EDUCATION & CHILD CARE

A growing number of school districts provide pre-kindergarten and preschool programs. Child care centers, Head Start and private and parochial schools are also a source of a quality preschool education for children. Home-based family child care is another child care option. Contact the school districts or programs directly or call Child Care Solutions for information and referrals.

HEALTH CARE

Sooner or later, most of us will need medical treatment.

Fortunately, Central New York is home to numerous quality hospitals and specialized medical facilities. St. Joseph's Hospital Health Center, SUNY Upstate Medical University and Crouse Hospital have each expanded dramatically in the last 10 years. Parents appreciate the Golisano Children's Hospital and Upstate's new Cancer Center, each serving patients from across the state.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Luis Castro, MD, medical direction, St. Joseph's Primary Care Center-West

I AM DRAWN TO OUR NEIGHBORHOOD in Camillus—a beautiful western suburb of Syracuse—because of the diversity of people from different backgrounds.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNTS ARE Pine Grove Health & Country Club where I do my Warrior Fitness Program, AKA, my fountain of youth!

I FEEL MOST AT HOME at my camp on Otisco Lake.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR raising a family in a safe, comfortable and beautiful place with access to many great outdoor activities. Central New York is also a hot bed for primary care. Primary care providers are valued and respected as much or more than specialists unlike most major metropolitan areas. This results in better preventative care for the population in general.

CENTRAL NEW YORK HEALTH CARE QUICK FACTS

Concussion Management Program and CNY Sports Concussion Center at Upstate Medical University: Recognized by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention as a significant public health issue, this Syracuse facility is on the cutting-edge of concussion research and treatment. The center also offers community education and outreach.

Central New York Biotech Accelerator: This facility opened in 2012 to support bioscience and medical technology and biotech entrepreneurial activity. The facility is located just outside downtown Syracuse and strives to be “the most creative and imaginative academically based innovative biotechnology accelerator in North America.”

Penicillin & Bristol-Myers Squibb: The Bristol-Myers Squibb factory in East Syracuse is responsible for helping create the world's first synthetic penicillin. For many years, the company produced more of the antibiotic than anyone else in the world. Bristol-Myers Squibb, with a local manufacturing facility since 1943, also makes Abilify, Eliquis and Plavix.

Elizabeth Blackwell: The first American woman to ever earn a medical degree attended Geneva Medical College, which is now Upstate Medical University, in the late 1840s.

Hospital beds: Onondaga County alone is home to more than 1,600 hospital beds among its three hospitals at four locations.

Welch Allyn: Next time you're in the doctor's office – anywhere – look at the name on the medical equipment in the room. Chances are, it says Welch Allyn. The Skaneateles Falls-based medical equipment company was acquired by Hill-Rom Holdings in 2015 for $2.05 billion.

Eye exam invention: Welch Allyn's founders Dr. Francis A. Welch and William Noah Allyn built the first hand-held ophthalmoscope, used in routine eye exams, about 1910.

Early hospital: Syracuse was an early leader in health care services as the first public hospital opened in 1870.

Poison Control Center at Upstate Medical University: 90 percent of calls are handled without further need of medical care, saving millions of dollars each year.

Co-inventor of the pill: Dr. Gregory Goodwin Pincus, a biologist and researcher, is credited with helping invent the combined oral contraceptive pill. He earned a bachelor's degree in agriculture from Cornell University in 1924.

Great Doctors. Great Care.

Patient Satisfaction Rate!

When great doctors work with a highly skilled, committed and caring staff, the outcome is patient satisfaction. At Hematology-Oncology Associates of CNY, great effort is put forth to let patients know they matter. It's not just their advanced treatments and technology, it's the spirit of every physician and employee that offers hope and a partnership to walk the journey together, committed to the best possible outcome. At HOA, everything matters!

QUALITY HEALTH CARE IS THE CORE OF OUR COMMUNITY

The Syracuse metropolitan area includes four acute general hospitals: Crouse Hospital, St. Joseph's Hospital Health Center, Upstate University Hospital of the State University of New York, and the Syracuse VA Medical Center. It also includes 11 nursing homes and several ambulatory care facilities.

- More than 1,800 general and specialty practicing physicians call Central New York home.
- Crouse Hospital supports regional centers for obstetrics and neonatology. The hospital also maintains the largest ambulatory surgery programs in the region and is a Chest Pain and Heart Failure Center and a NYS-designated Regional Stroke Center.
- St. Joseph's Hospital Health Center operates the largest programs in the region for cardiology and open heart surgery, and supports major programs in peripheral vascular surgery, nephrology and orthopedics. In 2014, it completed an expansion that includes the addition of 14 operating rooms, 110 private patient rooms and several green initiatives.
- Upstate University Hospital serves as the tertiary medical center hospital for 17 counties in the center of Upstate New York. The hospital includes regional centers for trauma care, neurosurgery, burn care and other specialties including the Golisano Children's Hospital. In 2014, Upstate opened the Upstate Cancer Center on its downtown campus and GEM Care, a Senior Emergency Department, on its Community General campus.
- Upstate Medical University houses the only academic medical school in the area; it also collaborates with allied teaching facilities. Crouse Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital Health Center operate nursing schools.
- The Syracuse VA Medical Center serves veterans from 13 counties and operates seven community-based outpatient clinics. It features a $90 million six-story Spinal Cord Disorder Center, a Level II Polytrauma Center and an Amputee Center of Care. Additional services are offered through its medicine, neurology, surgery and psychiatry departments.

The triangles are arranged in a grid-like fashion, creating a modern and abstract design.

NEWCOMERS

Welcome - we're here to help! If you're looking for a great place to live, where you can find affordable housing, good schools, easy commutes, cultural opportunities galore and four beautiful seasons, look no further. Syracuse and Central New York offer this and more, and since we know relocating to a new area can be daunting, this section is loaded with resources to get you started.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Laura Neitz, brand strategist, Terakeet

I MOVED TO SYRACUSE FROM Gettysburg, Pennsylvania to attend Le Moyne College. I actively chose to stay in Syracuse after graduation because of the impression the city made on me during my time here. I am continuously impressed with the investment the city and partner organizations have put into improving the community.

I AM DRAWN TO SYRACUSE BECAUSE I have been influenced by the powerful Jesuit experience at Le Moyne of Magis: doing more, being more and achieving more than originally thought possible. I think the current effort to revitalize the region and the creation of a conscious sense of community in Syracuse embodies this principle. This is an exciting time to be living in Syracuse and I wouldn't want to miss it!

MY NEW FAVORITE PLACE IS...there are so many places in Syracuse to love! From Green Lakes where you can experience the renowned natural beauty of Upstate New York, to Armory Square where you can really see the fruits of the revitalization efforts that have been going on during the past decade, to Beer Belly Deli (my favorite restaurant) on Westcott Street where you can see both lively college life and Syracuse's young adults coming together – there are just so many places I love here for different reasons!

I'VE DISCOVERED THAT CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR its real sense of community. It comes through in one of the best, time-proven ways to gather people together: food and drink. There are so many great restaurants and breweries in CNY that I have tried and plan on trying in the future! The entrepreneurial spirit is strong here and it is shining through in absolutely delicious ways.

CENTRAL NEW YORK CHEERLEADERS

Like all good New Yorkers, folks from this region are not shy – especially about sharing and encouraging all of the good things happening here. Many local organizations share a common goal – promoting the things that make Central New York great! These organizations can help you learn more about the area, join a board of directors or just find a good restaurant. If you're looking for an expert on the area, who is also passionate about the place, look no further than this list.

LOCAL LINGO

Brush up on names, words and landmarks to sound like a local.

The Dome: The nickname for the Carrier Dome, this marshmallow-looking landmark is home to Syracuse University sports and hosts many other events throughout the year.

Creekwalk: The Onondaga Creekwalk is a 2.6-mile long paved trail that stretches from downtown Syracuse to Onondaga Lake. The eventual plan is to connect the creekwalk to the Loop the Lake Trail and the Erie Canalway Trail.

Utica greens: Named for the Upstate city to the east, Utica Greens are a popular dish in Central New York. Recipes vary but the base is usually a leafy green such as escarole with bacon or prosciutto, peppers, breadcrumbs and grated cheese.

The Fair: While the Central New York region is home to dozens of fairs and festivals throughout the year, the New York State Fair, which runs for 10 days at the end of each summer, is king. Annual attendance often surpasses one million people. The fairgrounds are also undergoing a $50 million makeover courtesy of the state, this year.

Onondaga (pronounced on-uhn-daw-guh): You'll find it everywhere. It's the name of a county, town, college, school district, lake, park and several roads, some of which intersect!

Orange: It's the year-round color as Central New Yorkers love to cheer on Syracuse University sports teams.

Local brews: Empire Brewing Company and Middle Ages Brewing both make hand-crafted beers right in Syracuse.

Coney: Stand in line at any hot dog stand and you will hear folks debating the pronunciation of this white hot dog made from pork, beef and veal. Is it coney or coonie? No matter how you pronounce it, it will always be a local favorite.

Salt: Syracuse was originally known as the Salt City as the kitchen and sidewalk staple was produced here for many years. You'll continue to find the name on everything from potatoes (a summertime cookout staple), to an annual funky flea market and sale called the Salt City Market.

Chicken Riggies: This creamy, spicy pasta concoction can be found on menus all over the region. Try 'em all to find your favorite!

Riesling: Many Finger Lakes wine makers specialize in this sweet, crisp white variety that has brought home dozens of awards from around the world.

Lacrosse: Originating with Native Americans, Central New York is a hotbed for lacrosse enthusiasts and talent. Many local schools start programs in elementary school and both girls and boys, men and women, excel in programs at local high schools and colleges.

Stickley Furniture: The high-quality, handcrafted furniture company, famous for its Mission designs, is based in nearby Manlius.

BUSINESS

From international corporations to local, independently owned businesses, thousands of companies are proud to call Central New York home. High tech, clean tech, and eds and meds are just a few of the region's strongest growing industries.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

CHEDY HAMPSON, founder and CEO, TCGplayer.com

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE you can feel the renewed energy in downtown Syracuse. The influx of new restaurants and retail, along with more businesses looking to make their move back into the city, provide an excitement in the air that I love being a part of.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS Otro Cinco, which is located one block from the TCGplayer.com office. It's a great, locally owned, Mexican-style restaurant that makes for a fantastic lunch meeting spot. We also like having Pronto Fresh, which is just across the street from us, cater our Free Lunch Fridays. These are employee events with healthy salad, sandwich and wrap options. We love supporting Pronto Fresh and appreciate the positive vibe and atmosphere they bring to downtown. I also love having meetings at Cafe Kubal or the new Recess Coffee on Montgomery Street, which is also next to our offices. Their artisan blends are the perfect morning pick-me-up.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME right in downtown Syracuse. As a life-long resident of the city, I was determined to locate the TCGplayer.com offices here. I felt it was the best way to support the community and make a positive contribution to my home.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR expanding your horizons. I made an intentional choice in locating TCGplayer.com in downtown Syracuse because the location provides great lifestyle and professional opportunities, which have helped us bring talent from outside of New York state, who now account for 25 percent of our employees. They are able to enjoy great work, a lower cost of living and an ever-growing slate of retail, dining and cultural opportunities.

STRENGTHS IN DIVERSE INDUSTRIES

Central New York's economic diversity and industrial heritage is setting the stage for its future growth. The region boasts historic strengths in legacy industries such as manufacturing, engineering, agribusiness, biomedical and electronics. The region also boasts strong employment and growth opportunities in core industries like education, health care, insurance and financial services sectors. Engineering, architectural service and environmental systems firms continue to attract a well-paid and skilled workforce.

These traditionally strong sectors continue to expand alongside new advanced technology industries, such as digital and electronic devices, sensing technologies, advanced manufacturing and STEM-intensive industries.

INDUSTRY SECTORS AND LEADERS

Agriculture: Byrne Dairy; Cayuga Milk Ingredients LLC; Chobani LLC; Dairy Farmers of America, Inc.

A COMPETITIVE ADVANTAGE FOR GLOBAL MARKET OPPORTUNITIES

Central New York is building on its core competencies to capture global market opportunities in the Internet of Things (IoT) and agribusiness industries. The IoT represents a $655.8 billion industry expected to undergo further explosive growth, reaching an estimated $1.7 trillion by 2020. With population expansions around the world, the global food system will need to produce more in the next 40 years than it has in the past 10,000 years. Central New York is poised to leverage its regional assets and skilled workforce to capture its share of the global market in these sectors.

The Internet of Things market includes applications in factory automation, precision agriculture, utilities, health care, retail and insurance – areas where the region has existing strengths. The region is positioned to drive innovation, grow local companies and attract investment by expanding the industries at its backbone - radar and digital devices, biomedical devices, information assurance and clean technology - to the advanced industries of the IoT market: unmanned aerial systems, personalized and precision medicine, controlled environments, precision sensing and data analytics.

Global demand for high-quality and safe food can boost growth in the region's value-added agribusiness sector. Agriculture and food processing already contribute more than $53 billion, annually, to New York's economy, and more than 3,500 farms and more than 200 food-processing companies in Central New York employ nearly 4,000 people. Central New York has market expertise in agribusiness applications in high demand, including aseptic packaging for dairy products, and new technologies and processes to extend shelf life and create safer products. The region can also integrate the logistics needs of its food producers with new investments in its transportation infrastructure to enhance access to global markets.

These compelling niches within the IoT and agribusiness create a comparative advantage and offer massive growth prospects for Central New York.

CENTRAL NEW YORK ON THE RISE

Recent unprecedented investment in the region presents new opportunities for business and industry to capitalize on these market opportunities. New York state awarded the Central New York Regional Economic Development Council $500 million in 2015 for its strategic plan to attract private investment and jobs to the region. The plan, CNY Rising, includes six Signature Investments that draw on its core strengths and global market potential in the areas of unmanned aerial systems, agriculture, shipping and logistics, and respond to region's needs, particularly related to service to returning veterans, job skills training and more efficient local government. These initiatives have the potential to dramatically transform the economic landscape for Central New York.

Highlights include:

- Global Center for Unmanned Systems and Cross-Connected Platforms – a $250 million investment will position Central New York as the global leader for Unmanned Aerial Systems and their safe integration into commercial airspace by creating the first certified traffic management system for managing drones and these systems. The region is engaged with NASA and the FAA, leveraging its FAA's designated UAS test, and utilizing its expertise in precision sensing and data analytics to be a driving force in the UAS industry.

Potential collaborators include: C&S Companies; National Grid; Saab-Sensis; SRC Inc.; Verizon; Cornell University; Clarkson University; Onondaga Community College; SUNY College of Environmental Science and Forestry; SUNY Oswego; Syracuse University.

- New York-Grown, New York-Certified Safe and Market-Ready – a $50 million investment in projects to build a powerful brand identity and strong consumer preference for Central New York agricultural products – within the region and around the globe – strengthening the state's dairy, fruit and vegetable industries and enhancing the region's overall rural economy. These efforts will result in expanded capabilities for extended shelf life products and controlled environment agriculture to extend the growing season and increase food production, resulting in increased sales, new jobs and helping to meet the global demand for nutritious and safe food.

Potential collaborators include: Cornell University; Dairy Farmers of America; Morrisville State College; Cayuga Milk Ingredients.

- Global Manufacturing and Logistics Hub – a $40 million investment to build infrastructure, including an inland port, to enable businesses to be more competitive through greater access to global markets. This initiative aims to dramatically reduce the cost to New York state exporters of getting goods to international destinations, and create thousands of good paying jobs in the transportation, warehousing, manufacturing and agricultural sectors.

Potential collaborators include: Le Moyne College; the New York, Susquehanna and Western Railway; SUNY Oswego; Work Train; Mohawk Global Logistics; Port of Oswego.

INVENTIONS WITH CNY TIES

Serrated bread knife: Joseph E. Burns, of Syracuse, is credited with the patent for the serrated bread knife, created to cut through the crusty stuff without crushing it.

Outdoor lighting: While a student at Cornell University, Elmer A. Sperry invented and installed the first outdoor electric lighting.

24-second shot clock: Invented in Syracuse in 1954, the shot clock put an end to stall tactics, which were hurting the NBA by slowing down the game. A monument in downtown's Armory Square commemorates the invention.

Brannock device: SU grad Charles F. Brannock developed the device to measure the length, width and arch of the human foot. The design he patented in 1926 remains standard in the footwear industry.

American Girl dolls: Pleasant Rowland, a Wells College graduate, who has deep ties to Aurora in Cayuga County, created the American Girl brand in 1986. She later sold the company to Mattel for $700 million.

Air conditioning: Willis H. Carrier invented air conditioning. The company bearing his name, Carrier Corporation, had a large presence in Syracuse for many years and has naming rights to Syracuse University's Carrier Dome.

Crouse Hinds: manufactured the country's first traffic light in 1921. America's only upside-down traffic light appropriately resides on Tipperary Hill, which was settled by Irish immigrants on Syracuse's west side.

Salt potatoes: Salt potatoes are to Syracuse what chicken wings are to Buffalo - a regional specialty identified with an upstate city. Salt potatoes were invented in the 1800's by local salt workers who boiled small potatoes, skins and all, in brine for an inexpensive lunch. The tasty taters are still enjoyed today; their salt-encrusted skins dipped in melted butter before eating.

Loafers: The A.E. Nettleton Company, of Syracuse, produced the first pair of loafers in 1937.

TRANSPORTATION

Locals and visitors love how easy it is to get around town. Traveling to, from and around Syracuse and Central New York is a breeze by car, bus, plane or train. The region is at the crossroads of two of New York's major highways, an international airport and a regional transportation center that serves trains and national bus service. The cycling population is also growing as communities add bike paths to the landscape.

MEET THE NEIGHBORS

Grant Kyle, senior vice president, North Brook Farms Inc., IGK Equestrian LLC and KyleCroft Development LLC

I AM DRAWN TO MY NEIGHBORHOOD BECAUSE Weedsport offers rural life with quick and convenient access to Syracuse and Rochester via the New York State Thruway. Central New York is the epicenter of the dairy region giving us access to customers and dealers. Routes 81 and 90 also provide easy access to a large market of horse and cow customers in Pennsylvania, metro New York City and New England. In addition, the beautiful Finger Lakes region makes for easy excursions to state parks, wineries and boating.

MY FAVORITE LOCAL HAUNT IS Lunkenheimer Brewery, which is a great place to meet with local friends and bring visitors. The owners are friendly and the diverse beer selection offers something everyone can enjoy. Having the option to order food from the local Old Erie Restaurant located in front of the brewery makes for an easy night out.

I FEEL MOST AT HOME at a local brewery (Lunkenheimer, Prison City Brewery, Two Goats) or restaurant (Moro's Table, Tailor and the Cook, Oak and Vine) celebrating the bounty that is grown and produced in Central New York.

CENTRAL NEW YORK IS GREAT FOR being at the heart of our business. By basing our family run company in Auburn we have quick and convenient access to major highways that can easily take us across the state to meet with customers and dealers. We are just minutes from Hancock International Airport, meaning we can just as easily tap into our extensive dealer network across the country and around the world.

Celebrating over 50 years in CNY

For more than 10 years, Novelis has been a proud member of the Oswego community. Novelis is the world's premier producer of rolled aluminum and the global leader in aluminum recycling, producing more than a billion pounds of high-quality aluminum sheet each year. Novelis Oswego is an important part of a global network of aluminum recycling and rolling facilities, producing aluminum for products like the all-new Ford F-150, beverage cans and architecture. We enable our customers to make their ideas real, and we help consumers to enjoy the products they want today while knowing they are contributing to a better world tomorrow.

Not just aluminum, Novelis Aluminum.™
